This is a story about a boy and a girl called Alice and Gabriel, who both learnt a valuable lesson. Joe and Joanna have <sup>been</sup> really wanting kids. One day Joe was farming and Joanna was doing weaving. When they both were happy with their work they heard a knock at the door they opened the door and an old man drop of 2 kids on the doorstep and ran away. There was a note in one of the basket it said 'don't take from others they might be sad without it'. But the kids were babies and couldn't hear. Also there was a pail there.

Ten years later

When Joe was clearing the rotary Queen Alice and Gabriel were helping. They wanted to go outside they got the pail and went outside together. Joanna shouted out the window 'please get the magic dust from the lake! So off they went. When they got there they ~~said~~ said 'there I see the dust ~~at~~ the bottom of the lake! Then they scooped the pail in the lake and got the dust. When they both got home with the pail Joe and Joanna said 'oh the poor fish they can't swim without the magic dust! Can't you both go and put it back please? "OK" said Alice and Gabriel. When they both got home they were really hungry so Joe said "you can go and get the golden Tashberry from the bush." "OK" said Alice and Gabriel. So off they went. When they got home Joanna said 'the bush is red! Please go and put it back. So off they went. When they got back they were bored and needed a song. So both the parents said 'go and get the giant's song' so off they went. When they got back to the hillsort they could hear the giant crying from their hillsort. So off they went.

Later there was a knock at the door. It was fish, bush and the giant saying 'thank you for our stuff back but we were really sad at that time.' 'Sorry' said the children. When they were asleep the old man took the kids away after 10 years.
